DEBENTURE PLAN FOR FARM RELIEF PASSED BY SENATE COALITION

Republicans Unite With Democrats To Confound Hoover

WASHINGTON, May 9.—A natural coalition of mid-western Republican farm congressmen and Democrats appeared to be forming today in both houses of congress seeking to overturn President Hoover's tariff and agricultural legislation.

Thirteen Republicans, most of whom voted and campaigned for Hoover last November, combined with thirty-four Democrats in the senate late yesterday to vote into the administration farm bill the debenture or tariff bounty feature which Mr. Hoover has found to be so objectionable. The vote was 47 to 44.

Encouraged by this success, house Democrats, led by Rep. John Garner, of Texas, announced they would rally around the debenture plan.

The same unexpected situation, embarrassing to the administration, is growing up around the tariff bill which is to be brought to the floor of the house today for general debate. The house farm bloc is dissatisfied with increased rates provided for materials which the farmer must buy. The Democrats believe the bill goes too high.

In the senate, Robinson, the Democratic floor leader, has served notice he will fight to eliminate the tariff commission. Senator Borah of Idaho, one of those who voted against Mr. Hoover on the debenture plan, told the United Press he is strongly against increasing the commission and giving the president full reign over it as provided in the house bill.

These and other natural interests are working to bring the non-nationally opposing forces together, and together they may be able to command a majority, as they showed yesterday in the senate farm vote.

The situation would have been inconceivable at the outset of the session four weeks ago. Nobody was championing the debenture plan then except the grange. It was not pressed in the house and but little mention was made of it showed a substantial majority standing with Mr. Hoover against it. Since then many westerners have "heard from home." They say the plan took hold in the west.

These factors are said to have helped to work the debenture plan through to solid footing. A resume of the vote shows the following Republicans favored the debenture plan: Blaine and LaFollette, Wisconsin; Johnson, California; Borah; Nye and Prazier, North Dakota; McMaster and Norbeck, South Dakota; Pine, Oklahoma; Schall, Minnesota; Norris and Hoell, Nebraska; and Brookhart, Iowa.

Only two Democrats deserted their party ranks, Randall of Louisiana and Wagner of New York. Little else remains to be done with the bill. The issue now is whether fruits and vegetables should remain in the list of commodities to be benefited. The measure is expected to be passed and sent back to the house by Friday. The issue then will be whether the house should accept the debenture plan.

MURDER SUSPECT IS TAKEN IN CUSTODY

ZANESVILLE, O., May 9.—"Chuck" Connor, sought under an indictment charging him with complicity in the murder of Henry S. Walbrown, of Ravenswood, Va., last September 10, was captured today by Constable Huteskey, of Rimersburg, Pa., according to word received here by police.

Police Chief Joseph Pettit and Sheriff W. A. McFarland of Muskingum County have left to return Connor to this city for trial.

Connor was indicted for first degree murder along with Miss Thelma Bonifant, 24, this city, who was acquitted of the murder at her trial here recently.

Miss Bonifant and Harold Smith, state penitentiary prisoner and chief defense witness, both testified that Connor fired the shots that killed Walbrown.

The shooting took place at the home of Charles White, near here following an alleged drinking party.

THINK CAPONE AND MORAN ARE IN DEATH RACE

Triple Murder Said To Be Reprisal For Death Of Seven

CHICAGO, May 9.—The ten year old story of bullets and blood and the changing dynasties of Chicago's gangland was expanded today to include a new and as yet unfinished chapter—a death race between "Scarface" Al Capone and George "Bugs" Moran.

The race challenge was hurled two months ago in the machine gun massacre of seven Morans in a northside garage. The starters' guns were the automatic pistols which executed three of Capone's trusted lieutenants early yesterday.

The goal is escape from assassination which each has decreed for the other. Victory, however, may mean only a brief escape from death for the winner.

The latest mass murder in the war between Capone and his enemies claimed the lives of John Scalsie, Albert Anselmi and Joseph Guanta, veterans in gangland's many bitter wars. The rank of the three victims in Capone's organization convicted observers that Capone's only defense now is the death of Moran.

Although Moran's power dwindled through the loss of seven of his men St. Valentine's day, he has found a new ally in Johnny Torrio, Chicago's first gangster who abdicated in favor of Capone, a former aide, and sought safety in his native Italy.

The general belief is that Torrio's support of Moran had given the northside leader courage to dare the execution of three of Capone's most valuable aides. On the other hand, Capone was said to have sought support by union of all northside leaders such as "Polack" Joe Salts and Edward "Spike" O'Donnell.

Investigation of the triple murder indicated that the three Capone men had been surprised by their victims at a table, much in the same manner perhaps as Moran's seven men were surprised St. Valentine's day.

The paths of the many bullets fired into the three bodies proved the men had been shot in a sitting position, police said. The bodies all bore evidence of beating which was construed as the results of third degree methods employed by the slayers to gain confessions of the Moran massacre.

Shore was under indictment for the massacre murders, while he and Anselmi both bore the enmity of the Moran gang.

THREE KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

HAMILTON, O., May 9.—Three persons were killed and three were injured, two seriously, when their automobile crashed into a telephone pole near here shortly after midnight.

The accident occurred as the car turned from Deerfield Pike, into Grand Boulevard.

The killed were Nolan of Hamilton and an unidentified Schlegel and Julius Rocar, both of Hamilton.

Those injured were Paul Schneider, 21, driver of the car; Mary Alexander and Romilda Rust, all of Hamilton.

The occupants of the machine were said to have been returning from a dance when the accident occurred.

Apparently no one saw the accident although Schneider was believed to have been driving at a high rate of speed.

HERO ACCLAIMED

GARRETSVILLE, O., May 9.—A Carnegie hero medal will be sought for J. W. Johnson, 35, a barber, who leaped into the waters of Silver Creek here, despite the fact he could not swim, and rescued George Bauerle, 5, Johnson almost lost his life in saving the lad who fell into the water while playing on the bank.

THREE ARRESTED IN MURDER OF FILLING STATION OFFICIAL

Traffic Officer Learns Murder On Speed Arrest

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 9.—Alarmed by reports an angry mob was enroute from the Lees Creek section, authorities today maintained a heavy guard over the county jail where three Elizabeth, N. J., "tourists" one a woman, were held in connection with the murder of Frank Bowen, Hershaw filling station owner and restaurateur.

The prisoners, William Morrison and Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Wilcott, all of Elizabeth, were intercepted by a motorcycle officer yesterday while speeding through a suburb. Under an overcoat in the back seat the officer found Bowen's body, a bullet wound in the head.

At the police station Wilcott confessed according to officers, that they waylaid Bowen at Hershaw, killed him, drove his automobile to where their own had been broken down, switched license plates, then started for Charleston.

They decided to "get" Bowen, according to Wilcott's story to police, when they were eating in Bowen's restaurant and saw him put a roll of money in his pocket and leave.

While Mrs. Wilcott, a bride of less than six weeks, remained in their own car which had broken down, the men followed Bowen and stopped on the pretext that they needed help. Wilcott climbed into the front seat and Morrison sat in the rear, he said.

Bowen was shot from behind, then dumped on the floor in the back of the car.

The mob reported making its way from Bowen's district, had failed to put in an appearance this morning, although police were prepared for emergencies.

Mrs. Wilcott said she married her husband last month at the city hall in Elizabeth. She said her parents were Mr. and Mrs. William Runne of 110 Fairview Avenue, Roselle Park, N. J.

EXPLOSION VICTIM

COLUMBUS, O., May 9.—Mrs. Bessie Brown, 39, is dead here from burns received when gasoline she was using to clean garments, exploded.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 9.—Another film wedding will take place today, while the wedding of Constance Talmadge and Townsend Nether still was a topic of discussion in the film colony.

John Gilbert, one of the screen's famous lovers, and Ina Claire, stage and screen actress, will be married in Los Vegas, Nev., today. They left Hollywood last night, accompanied by a large number of friends, to avoid the three day notice of intent to wed required by California law.

Miss Talmadge and Nether were married yesterday afternoon at the home of Buster Keaton.

The ceremony was simple in the extreme. The usual crowd that throngs around the place where famous members of the screen are being married, was lacking. Only a few friends were present.

A simple wedding dinner was served at the Keaton home after the ceremony. Then the couple went to the home in Santa Monica recently constructed for Nether.

Gilbert and Miss Claire became acquainted about a month ago. The announcement of their impending wedding came as a surprise to nearly everyone in Hollywood.

Miss Claire formerly was the wife of James Whitaker, New York newspaperman. Gilbert was divorced some time ago by Leatrice Joy, film actress. Both Gilbert and Miss Claire are 32.

STUDENT KILLED BY OFFICERS SEEKING LIQUOR OFFENDERS

Policeman And Two Deputies Arrested For Shooting

ABINGDON, Va., May 9.—A policeman and two deputy sheriffs are under arrest today charged with murder as a result of the death of J. W. Kendrick, 17-year-old student of Emory and Henry College, from gun shot wounds allegedly fired during an automobile chase.

The policeman, James McReynolds, and the two Washington county deputies, James Crowe and J. T. Worley, said the boys did not stop when ordered. The shots they said, were fired at the tires of the auto in front of them.

The officers said they had been ordered to investigate a disturbance being made by some students. Paul Phelps, driver of the car in which Kendrick was riding, and Leaning Dutton, third member of the group, said they heard no order to stop.

The officers waived preliminary hearing and were held for the grand jury.

Bond for each was set at $5,000. Warrants for their arrest were sworn out by E. M. Kendrick, uncle and guardian of the slain boy, who said he would "spend his last dollar" in prosecuting the officers.

Following the officers' arrest, they were detained for a short time in the office of a justice of the peace who fixed bond. Sheriff Bordwine, the officers' superior, said his men had not been relieved of duty and intimidated he might not have to have overstepped the bounds of their authority.

Young Kendrick was shot through the back of the head according to his uncle. Intimations the boys were carrying liquor were flatly denied by relatives. The uncle said the three left home Tuesday evening for a ride.

He said his nephew died in Abingdon Memorial Hospital early Wednesday.

BENDER IS DENIED CHAMBER SUPPORT

CLEVELAND, May 9.—Senator George H. Bender of Cleveland will not have the support of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce in his fight this year for reappointment of representatives to the general assembly.

Directors of the chamber, after discussing Bender's proposed constitutional amendment for more than a month, decided to formally disapprove it. A statement issued by them said in part:

"The Cleveland Chamber of Commerce disapproves the submission of the proposed Bender amendment for reappointment of membership in the Ohio legislature. We believe the presentation of such an amendment to be unwise because of the taxation amendment which will be submitted at the November election."

AGAIN OFFERED JOB

WILMINGTON, May 9.—The board of education at Bourneville, near Chillicothe, has offered a position to Muriel Loumenhouser, a teacher who resigned after she was made the victim of a blackmail plot. Moscoe Marshall, Wilmington barber, was found guilty of attempting to blackmail the girl.

REPRISAL SEEN IN TRIPLE GANGSTER MURDER

Reprisal for the massacre of seven Chicago gangsters last St. Valentine's Day is believed by police the motive for the murder of three members of "Scarface" Al Capone's gang, whose bullet-riddled bodies were found just across the Indiana line from Chicago at Hammond, Ind. Central Press telephoto, above, shows the spot where the bodies were discovered, two in an abandoned auto, where the two men stand in the photo, and the third on the ground where the man is pointing. Insets are, left to right, Albert Anselmi, and John Scalsie, two of the slain gangsters.

TOM MIX INDICTED IN FEDERAL INCOME TAX FRAUD ATTEMPT

Accused Of Withholding $100,000 Due To Government

LOS ANGELES, May 9.—An investigation of income tax reports prepared for Hollywood film stars by advisory experts was expected today after the indictment of Tom Mix and others on a charge of withholding more than $100,000 in federal taxes.

The action was the second in a series of indictments involving Marjorie Berger, advisor to numerous film players.

Attorneys for Mix said he would file his $15,000 bonds today and that he would sign them upon his return from a circus engagement in three weeks.

According to Assistant United States Attorney James Peterson, the government has lost huge sums in the Hollywood area alone through alleged fraudulent income tax returns and a close scrutiny of reports will be made.

In four indictments returned yesterday, Mix and others were indicted after a two year investigation. Mix was named alone in one indictment and Miss Berger in another. In a fourth indictment named Miss Berger, Mix and the latter's press agent, Jack Hill.

A maximum of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine is provided for each count in the straight indictments.

In the two conspiracy indictments, Mix is accused with Miss Berger, and the others of attempting to defraud the government of $75,967.45 by preparation of false returns. The amount in all four indictments is $127,733.68.

The total sum includes an accusation that Mix falsely stated he was a taxpayer and that he had paid Ford $12,000 a year as the latter's manager but gave the latter checks with which to pay Ford's tax.

Overstatements of wardrobe, boat trip and assistant's expenses were charged.

The case is the third in which screen colony advisors have been indicted during the past few months. Miss Berger and Edward Hay, den previously were indicted in connection with returns for other persons.

ASKS AROMATIC DAMAGES

PORTLAND, Me., May 9.—Claiming that an obnoxious odor from a nearby cleaning and dyeing plant made them ill, killed their cats, and ruined their foodstuffs, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Landry have filed suit against the company, seeking $5,000 damages each.

PRISONER REPUDIATES STORY THAT HE FIRED STATE PRISON

COLUMBUS, O., May 9.—Claiming that his confession made at Hamilton yesterday was made under compulsion, Ivan Pickering, 24, prisoner who escaped from the Junction City brick plant fire, today was on record as repudiating any knowledge of the cause of the fire.

Pickering told Hamilton officials that the fire which caused the death of nine to fourteen convicts was set by two other prisoners. He had been arrested earlier in the day at Lebanon at the home of an aunt, Mrs. Anna Huddleston, who was arrested on a charge of harboring a criminal.

He said that Elmer Whiting, 23, and Edward O. Tillotson, 35, were the perpetrators of the escape plot and had asked him to join them.

MILLIONS WATCH SOLAR ECLIPSE ON PHILIPPINE ISLANDS ON THURSDAY

MANILA, P. I., May 9.—More than one million persons in the Philippine Islands gazed at the sky today and witnessed a solar eclipse. Shortly after noon, the moon slipped between the sun and the earth. Light grew dimmer, just as though the sun was setting and night was starting.

At 2:07 p. m. (1:07 a. m. E. S. T.) the eclipse started and for more than an hour the moon continued its revolution until the sun was obscured for a period of thirteen minutes in some parts of the islands.

The start of the eclipse was exactly on the minute that had been predicted by scientists. The sky was cloudless.

Nervousness among the natives was reported noticeable, some of them giving away all their earthly belongings at the last minute because they believed the end of the world was near.

Scientists from five large observatories of the world were on the islands Panay and Cebu to record the event, observing the shift of the sun's spectral lines, bending light around the sun and security motion of the perihelion of planets. They were equipped with instruments worth thousands of dollars. They expected to obtain valuable data on Einstein's theory of relativity.

HELEN WILLS, QUEEN OF COURTS, MEETS QUEEN OF BRITISH COURT

LONDON, May 9.—Miss Helen Wills will make her bow to the British Royal Court tonight. The American tennis champion put her favorite sport aside today to join eleven other American women who will make the long drive up the mail to social distinction.

Besides Miss Wills, the following young American women were invited for presentation tonight: Miss Virginia Willys, Toledo, O.; Miss Elizabeth Behn, New York City; Miss Alice Conolly, Chicago; Miss Lillian Emerson, Black Mountain, N. C.; Mrs. Albert Halstead, Cincinnati; Miss Jocelyn Pierson, Baltimore; and Miss Harriet Walker, Piedmont, Calif.

Ladies of the United States diplomatic corps who will be presented tonight, are: Mrs. Raymond Cox, Mrs. Charles Wesson, Mrs. William Galbraith, and Mrs. Frederick Lee.

Another contingent of eight Americans will be presented tomorrow night.

Miss Wills has lived in nervous excitement during the past few weeks getting ready for the presentation. She admitted it, but she did not let it interfere with her tennis, although it may have had something to do with the fact that she appeared on the Wimbledon courts yesterday wearing two left-foot shoes.

Yesterday she called on the bishop of London, an elderly divine with whom she had played tennis when he visited California two years ago. All week she has spent intervals at shopping, because she is leaving tomorrow for Holland.

Miss Wills was still afflutter today, bustling about her rooms packing for the Holland trip, and practicing for the last few times the curtsy which she must perform before Queen Mary.

She went with the other American women to the American Embassy Tuesday for official coaching in the etiquette of the occasion, the strictest etiquette in the English speaking world.

Mrs. Ray Atherton, wife of the American Charge d'Affaires, was to have presented the American women to Queen Mary, but she was ill today and it was believed Mrs. Frederick Stamer, wife of the German ambassador, would present the Americans as ranking lady of the diplomatic corps.

When Soucek descended at the Anacostia naval air station yesterday after seventy-five minutes in the air, he said his altimeter registered 40,000 feet before the propeller refused to push his plane any higher in the thin atmosphere. He must have attained 38,738 feet, by 100 meters, the record of Lt. C. C. Champlin in the same plane on July 25, 1927.

"My goggles froze over like a frosted window pane when I was 1,000 feet from the top," he said. He said his eyes were uninjured.

Putting aside the electrically heated clothes donned by most altitude seekers, he wore only a heavy fleece lined flying suit. He took oxygen through a rubber tube from a tank in the cockpit.

"I had no trouble whatever except for my goggles freezing," Soucek said. "My motor was running as fine at the top of the trip as when I left the ground."

Had his propeller been able to push the plane higher in the atmosphere he could have gone even further, Soucek intimated.

BELIEVE FLYER HAS SET NEW ALTITUDE RECORD IN BIPLANE

Gained 40,000 Feet As Plane Reached Peak Of Ascent

WASHINGTON, May 9.—T-4, a trim little biplane which carried Lt. A. Soucek to an altitude which he hopes will prove a world's record when the bureau of standards completes calibrating his barograph later today, may rise still higher with him if yesterday's attempt fell short of the 38,738 feet necessary to make him a world champion, he told the United Press today.

When Soucek descended at the Anacostia naval air station yesterday after seventy-five minutes in the air, he said his altimeter registered 40,000 feet before the propeller refused to push his plane any higher in the thin atmosphere. He must have attained 38,738 feet, by 100 meters, the record of Lt. C. C. Champlin in the same plane on July 25, 1927.

LIQUOR SMUGGLING CHARGE NOT PROVED SAYS FLORIDA JURY

Acquit Michaelson Of Violation As Crowd Cheers

KEY WEST, Fla., May 9.—A warrant for the arrest of Walter Gramm, brother-in-law of Rep. M. A. Michaelson of Illinois, was issued by the U. S. commissioner here today. It charged violation of the national prohibition laws by illegally importing and transporting liquor, a charge on which Michaelson was acquitted today by a jury in federal court. Gramm is said to have admitted ownership of the trunks said to contain the liquor.

KEY WEST, Fla., May 9.—Congressman M. A. Michaelson, of Chicago, supporter of the Jones law, was acquitted by a jury in federal court of charges of violation of the national prohibition law.

The verdict substantiated the repeated statements of Michaelson that he did not smuggle intoxicating liquor into the United States from Cuba by use of freedom of the port privileges accorded members of congress, as specifically charged in the indictment.

The hundreds of spectators who crowded the courtroom and federal building until 1:10 a. m. today when the verdict was returned, rose to their feet and cheered Michaelson.

The case saw Michaelson and his brother-in-law, Walter Gramm, also of Chicago, as the only defense witnesses.

Most of the testimony taken concerned ownership and contents of several trunks alleged by the government to have contained liquor. Gramm testified the trunks were his, both he and Michaelson denying any knowledge of the trunks containing liquor.

The government's case reached its high point during the testimony of two prohibition officials who declared on the stand that Michaelson had made three calls at their Washington headquarters seeking to recover the luggage.

They testified Michaelson told them at the time the trunks contained his own and his wife's wearing apparel.

On the stand Michaelson was quick to deny that testimony, saying the prohibition officials were "laboring under a misapprehension." Michaelson answered "no" to a question of the prosecution asking if the trunks contained seed, plants, bird feathers, or liquor.

Prohibition Agent J. C. Ray, while on the stand, identified a bottle of whiskey as one he had taken from a trunk at Jacksonville where the Michaelson trunks were seized after a baggageman said he had discovered one of them leaking.

The baggageman reported he told customs officials of the incident. The bottle identified by Ray was introduced as evidence and given to the jury for inspection.

Ray first tested the contents of the bottle, pronouncing it liquor. The baggageman, Jimbal A. Barbet, master at Jacksonville, testified the trunks which leaked carried tags numbered 822-346 and 822-347. J. T. Hathaway, customs agent, testified that in compliance with a telegram he received from Washington, he did not inspect the luggage of the defendants when they arrived from Cuba January 2, 1928.

The telegram directed the congressman be accorded the courtesy of the port. He testified at the same time that two pieces of Michaelson's luggage had tags numbered 822-346 and 822-347.

In charging the jury, Judge Halstead L. Ritter said the question to be decided was "whether or not Mr. Michaelson knew there was liquor in the trunks."

The officers waived preliminary hearing and were held for the grand jury. Bond for each was set at $5,000. Warrants for their arrest were sworn out by E. M. Kendrick, uncle and guardian of the slain boy, who said he would "spend his last dollar" in prosecuting the officers.

Following the officers' arrest, they were detained for a short time in the office of a justice of the peace who fixed bond. Sheriff Bordwine, the officers' superior, said his men had not been relieved of duty and intimidated he might not relieve them unless they were shown to have overstepped the bounds of their authority.

Young Kendrick was shot through the back of the head according to his uncle. Intimations the boys were carrying liquor were flatly denied by relatives. The uncle said the three left home Tuesday evening together, saying they were "going for a ride."

He said his nephew died in Abingdon Memorial Hospital early Wednesday.

BENDER IS DENIED CHAMBER SUPPORT

CLEVELAND, May 9.—Senator George H. Bender of Cleveland will not have the support of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce in his fight this year for reappointment of representatives to the general assembly.

Directors of the chamber, after discussing Bender's proposed constitutional amendment, more than a month, decided to formally disapprove it. A statement issued by them said in part:

"The Cleveland Chamber of Commerce disapproves the submission of the proposed Bender amendment for reappointment of membership in the Ohio legislature. We believe the presentation of such an amendment to be unwise because of the taxation amendment which will be submitted at the November election."

AGAIN OFFERED JOB
WILMINGTON, May 9.—The board of education at Bournville, near Chillicothe, has offered a position to Muriel Loumenhouser, a teacher who resigned after she was made the victim of a blackmail plot. Moscoe Marshall, Wilmington barber, was found guilty of attempting to blackmail the girl.

REPRISAL SEEN IN TRIPLE GANGSTER MURDER

Reprisal for the massacre of seven Chicago gangsters last St. Valentine's Day is believed by police the motive for the murder of three members of "Scarface" Al Capone's gang, whose bullet-riddled bodies were found just across the Indiana line from Chicago at Hammond, Ind. Central Press telephoto, above, shows the spot where the bodies were discovered, two in an abandoned auto, where the two men stand in the photo, and the third on the ground where the man is pointing. Insets are, left to right, Albert Anselmi, and John Scallio, two of the slain gangsters.

TOM MIX INDICTED IN FEDERAL INCOME TAX FRAUD ATTEMPT

Accused Of Withholding $100,000 Due To Government

LOS ANGELES, May 9.—An investigation of income tax reports prepared for Hollywood film stars by advisory experts was expected today after the indictment of Tom Mix and others on a charge of withholding more than $100,000 in federal taxes.

The action was the second in involving Marjorie Berger, advisor to numerous film players. Attorneys for Mix said he would file his $15,000 bonds today and that he would sign them upon his return from a circus engagement in three weeks.

According to Assistant United States Attorney Ames Peterson, the government has lost huge sums in the Hollywood area alone through alleged fraudulent income tax returns and a close scrutiny of reports will be made.

In four indictments returned yesterday, Mix and others were indicted after a two year investigation. Mix was named alone in one indictment and Miss Berger in another. In a third true bill, Miss Berger and Eugene J. Forde, the actor's business manager, were indicted. A fourth indictment named Miss Berger, Mix and the latter's press agent, Jack Hill.

A maximum of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine is provided for each count in the straight indictments. In the two conspiracy indictments, Mix is accused of aiding Miss Berger and the others of attempting to defraud the government of $75,974.55 by preparation of false returns. The amount in all four indictments is $112,733.68.

The total sum includes an accusation that Mix falsely stated he paid Forde $12,000 a year as his manager but gave the latter checks with which to pay Forde's tax.

Overstatements of wardrobe, boat trip and assistant's expenses were charged. The case is the third in which screen colony advisors have been hit. Miss Berger and Edward Hayden previously were indicted in connection with returns for other persons.

ASKS AROMATIC DAMAGES

PORTLAND, Me., May 9.—Claiming that an obnoxious odor from a nearby cleaning and dyeing plant made them ill, killed their cats, and ruined their foodstuffs, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Landry have filed suit against the company, seeking $5,000 damages each.

PRISONER REPUDIATES STORY THAT HE FIRED STATE PRISON

COLUMBUS, O., May 9.—Claiming that his confession made at Hamilton yesterday was made under compulsion, Ivan Pickering, 24, prisoner who escaped from the Junction City brick plant fire, today was on record as repudiating any knowledge of the cause of the fire.

Pickering told Hamilton officials that the fire which caused the death of nine to fourteen convicts was set by two other prisoners. He had been arrested earlier in the day at Lebanon at the home of an aunt, Mrs. Anna Huddleston who was arrested on a charge of harboring a criminal. He said that Elmer Whiting, 23, and Edward O. Tillotson, 35, were the perpetrators of the escape plot and had asked him to join them.

LIQUOR SMUGGLING CHARGE NOT PROVED SAYS FLORIDA JURY

Acquit Michaelson Of Violation As Crowd Cheers

KEY WEST, Fla., May 9.—A warrant for the arrest of Walter Gramm, brother-in-law of Rep. M. A. Michaelson of Illinois, was issued by the U. S. commissioner here today. It charged violation of the national prohibition laws by illegally importing and transporting liquor, a charge on which Michaelson was acquitted today by a jury in federal court. Gramm is said to have admitted ownership of the trunks said to contain the liquor.

KEY WEST, Fla., May 9.—Congressman M. A. Michaelson, of Chicago, supporter of the Jones law, was acquitted by a jury in federal court of charges of violation of the national prohibition law.

The verdict substantiated the repeated statements of Michaelson that he did not smuggle intoxicating liquor into the United States from Cuba by use of freedom of the port privileges accorded members of congress, as specifically charged in the indictment.

The hundreds of spectators who crowded the courtroom and federal building until 1:10 a. m. today when the verdict was returned, were to their feet and cheered Michaelson.

The case saw Michaelson and his brother-in-law, Walter Gramm, also of Chicago, as the only defense witnesses.

Most of the testimony taken concerned ownership and contents of several trunks alleged by the government to have contained liquor. Gram testified the trunks were his, both he and Michaelson denying any knowledge of the trunks containing liquor.

The government's case reached its high point during the testimony of two prohibition officials who declared on the stand that Michaelson had made three calls at their Washington headquarters seeking to recover the luggage.

They testified Michaelson told them at the time the trunks contained his own and his wife's wearing apparel.

On the stand Michaelson was quick to deny that testimony, saying the prohibition officials were "laboring under a misapprehension." Michaelson answered "no" to a question of the prosecution asking if the trunks contained seed, plants, bird feathers, or liquor.

Prohibition Agent J. C. Ray, while on the stand, identified a bottle of whiskey as one he had taken from a trunk at Jacksonville where the Michaelson trunks were seized after a baggageman said he had discovered one of them leaving.

The baggageman reported he told customs officials of the incident. The bottle identified by Ray was introduced as evidence and given to the jury for inspection.

Ray first tested the contents of the bottle, pronouncing it liquor. The baggageman, Jimball A. Barbet, master at Jacksonville, testified the trunks which leaked carried tags numbered 822-346 and 822-347. J. T. Hathaway, customs agent, testified that in compliance with a telegram he received from Washington, he did not inspect the luggage of the defendant when it arrived from Cuba January 2, 1928.

The telegram directed the congressman be accorded the courtesy of the port. He testified at the same time that two pieces of Michaelson's luggage had tags numbered 822-346 and 822-347.

In charging the jury, Judge Halstead L. Ritter said the question to be decided was "whether or not Mr. Michaelson knew there was liquor in the trunks."

National Women Voters League Growing

By LILIAN CAMPBELL
THE national board of directors of the National League of Women Voters, in recent session at Washington, D. C., recognized the ton, while Mr. Costigan was a member of the federal trade commission. She was also, at one time, chairman of the league's committee on living costs.

The only states in which the National League is not now organized are Arkansas, Idaho and Wyoming. There are 772 local leagues in the forty-five states organized.

Beautiful Custom

The Daughters of 1812 have a beautiful custom of paying tribute to members deceased during the year at the national conventions. As a short eulogy is given, a page places a flower in a star for each name on the list.

Objects to Feminine Appendix

Amelia Earhart, the first woman to cross the Atlantic in an airplane from west to east, objects to the term aviatrix. "Let's not draw the sex line," she says. "The requirements for an aviator are merely good eyesight and muscular control. It is nonsense to say that a woman hasn't enough endurance to be a flyer. It has been proved many times that women have more endurance than men."

Opening the New York concert season, Miss Esther Dale, soprano, will give a recital at Town Hall 11 in October. This will be the second time Miss Dale has headed the list of artists appearing in New York. Later she will sing for the Ladies' Musical club of Quebec.

Mrs. Edward P. Costigan

newly organized Colorado state league is affiliated with the national body. Mrs. Edward P. Costigan, of Denver, is president. The National League is now organized in forty-five states, Hawaii and the District of Columbia.

ST. AGNES GUILD ENTERTAINS SOCIETIES

The St. Agnes Guild of Christ Episcopal Church entertained all the missionary societies of Xenia that have been studying "Africa" at the Parish House Wednesday afternoon.

There were more than one hundred and twenty-five women present. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Louise H. Sandoe, the Scripture lesson being read by Mrs. Paul D. Espey.

A representative from each society gave splendid five minute reports of the different churches in Africa. At the close of the meeting Mrs. C. H. Little and Mr. Leigh Little delightedly entertained with a program of music.

The guild then served a lovely refreshment course and a social hour was enjoyed.

A program of special music and readings will be given during Mother's Day exercises during the Sunday School period at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning, beginning at 9:15 o'clock. Young people of the church are in charge of the program and a special invitation is extended to mothers to attend.

Mr. Robert H. Wead, Xenia, student at Ohio State University, was elected to membership in Phi Alpha Theta, honorary scholastic fraternity at the first annual "Scholarship Night" May 7. He was among 400 students honored for outstanding scholarship by election to one of the nineteen honorary societies. He is a son of County Auditor and Mrs. R. O. Wead, N. Detroit St.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Lunsford, have as their guest for a few weeks, Miss Flossie Locke, Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Howell, N. Collier St., have named their daughter, born Tuesday, Judith Lee.

Mrs. Donald Legg and son Robert, Detroit, Mich., returned home Wednesday, after spending some time here with her mother-in-law, Mrs. D. M. Legg, W. Second St.

Mrs. L. B. Stevenson and Mrs. Jennie Wolf have moved from the Livsey Apts., N. Detroit St., to the former Anna MacCracken property, N. King St.

Mrs. Leora Tarbox, N. Galloway St., who has been ill for some time is returning to New York, Friday with her daughter, Mrs. Scott Hudson, who has been with her mother, here for the past three months.

Mr. C. E. Payne, N. Galloway St., left Thursday morning for Indianapolis, Ind., for a short business trip.

The choir of Trinity Church will meet for rehearsal Friday evening at 7 o'clock. All members are urged to be present as this is an important practice.

Take Pepsin The New Way and Win Stomach Comfort

Delightful Elixir With Real Pepsin, Menthol and Other Supreme Good Stomach Aids

If you have a weak, bad acting, rebellious stomach it won't take but a couple of weeks to turn it into a strong, healthy one, capable of digesting the heartiest meal without after distress.

Your stomach needs pepsin—needs it three times a day for about two weeks. The stomach remedy that you need is Dare's Mentha Pepsin. It will do you more good in two weeks than all the old time relieves will do in a lifetime.

That's just the reason that its sales in good drug stores all over America are enormous—that's why Xenia druggists are selling dozens of bottles every week.

Stop that acute indigestion in a few minutes with just one tablespoonful of this grand stomach regulator.

Take it regularly for two weeks and you'll learn the secret of how to always have and keep a strong healthy stomach.

Don't risk a cent. Say to your druggist, "I want a bottle of Dare's Mentha Pepsin, and if it doesn't do me a whole lot of good I want my money back."

It will be waiting for you. Knowing its great upbuilding power, every druggist guarantees this pleasant to take elixir. —Adv.

Legal Quirk Victim

After disarming a bandit, Oliver Deardorff, above, with his son, New York taxi driver, turned the gun over to a cop who didn't believe the story. He was arrested and charged with carrying firearms. Young Malcolm Lovell, Jr., prevailed on his father, a lawyer, to aid Deardorff, but the bandit catcher lost his taxi license.

Reserved seats may be obtained at Sohn's drug store.

FORMER XENIAN IS CONVICTED; FILES NEW TRIAL MOTION

Counsel for Moscoe Marshall, Wilmington, former Xenia barber, who was tried and convicted of blackmailing Miss Muriel Loumenhouser, Bourneville school teacher, at Chillicothe Tuesday, filed a motion for a new trial in Ross County Common Pleas Court Wednesday. Fifteen grounds of error were cited.

Meanwhile, Miss Loumenhouser, victim of the plot, has been offered a position in the Bourneville High School by Fred Bower, president of the Bourneville, Ross County, board of education.

Marshall, former violin teacher of the girl, was found guilty of having attacked her character and causing her to lose her position after death threats failed to make her give him more money.

Marshall's accusations were based on alleged auto rides the teacher took with him more than three years ago. She said he took several thousand dollars from her and forced her to sign notes for large sums.

"We believe in her and will stand by her," the school board head, who started proceedings against Marshall, said.

Collegiate Mayor

The new mayor of Norman, Okla., Jack Foster, 27, came to the state university 10 years ago in a spring wagon, drawn by two mules. Later he sold the mules and bought a small cleaning business with the proceeds. Today, he employs 30 persons in his plant and is a director of the bank which denied him credit as a freshman. In addition he is studying law at the university.

IF SUMMER COMES

Regardless of weather conditions fairs are scheduled to go out of style Monday, May 13 and will be replaced by light, airy straws, according to those in close touch with the latter business. Clothiers have so decorated and are consequently preparing displays of summer hay bonnets.

PROGRAM OF UNION SERVICES REVEALED

The Xenia Ministerial Association announces the following union services for the first part of the summer. It is hoped to have the services of July, August and part of September in the new Shawnee Park Auditorium.

The appointments and churches are as follows:
May 12—Rev. Joel R. Lunsford, Trinity M. E. Church.
May 19—Rev. L. A. Washburn, Presbyterian Church.
May 26—Rev. H. B. McElree, First M. E. Church, baccalaureate.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE HOPE OF HUMANITY—The earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.—Habakkuk 2:14.

EXCUSE OF A WEAK MIND

The young man recently arrested in New York, accused of strangling his young wife, taking her body to a deserted spot in the country, drenching it with kerosene and setting it afire, has voiced the usual protest of the man caught in an act of that kind.

"I loved her," he cries. "I loved her madly. Don't let there be any doubt about that. I wanted her to come back and live with me."

Time after time this sort of remark has been made by men who have committed similar crimes. Sometimes, no doubt, the murderer means it; and sometimes, perhaps, he is thinking of its possible effect on a sentimental jury.

Offhand, however, one would say that choking a woman to death and burning her body is a peculiar way of demonstrating affection for her.

A CHANCE TO BLUNDER

The present Congress is going to have some knotty problems to solve in connection with the new tariff changes. It will have plenty of chances to make blunders.

Chief among these chances is that presented by the proposal to lay a heavy import tax on sugar from the Philippines.

The situation in the Philippines, thanks to the wise administration of Governor Generals Wood and Stimson, has improved immensely in the last few years. The demand for independence is no longer the sharp, acrid thing it was a short time ago. More and more the Philippines have come to realize that the retention of the islands by the United States will work for their own advantage.

To slap a stiff tariff on Philippine sugar would be to end this happy situation and bring back the old dissatisfaction. Overnight the "Philippine question" would become vexatious again. The painstaking work of conciliation would be undone.

A SKYSCRAPER'S AGE

Things grow old quickly in this modern world. In Chicago, a matter of 35 years ago, was built the world's first skyscraper—the Tacoma Building, 14 stories tall, erected on a new principle which made a steel framework carry all the weight.

For years it was a marvel. Architects studied it, and the lessons it taught led to the construction of the towering buildings that mark every American city.

BIG TALK, BIG ACTIONS

When U. S. Senator James Couzens, sued by the Treasury Department a couple of years ago, announced that the money involved ($10,000,000), did not interest him at all, and that if he won his suit he would give it all to charity, most newspaper readers probably set the remark down as an empty gesture and forgot about it.

But Senator Couzens is a man of his word. He has just created a $10,000,000 trust fund for the promotion of child health, welfare and happiness, with the stipulation that all of the money must be spent in 25 years.

We are used to large-scale charities. But Senator Couzens' way of establishing this one was unique. Here is a man who not only can talk big, but can back up his words in a big way.

Your BROADWAY And Mine

By Walter Winchell

NEW YORK, May 7.—Another Park Row gag has passed on and those of us who never even met him are saddened. T. A. Dorgan was christened, but the world over affectionately called him "Tad," the initials of his tag. It was not our luck to have ever known him personally. But his letters came frequently, and to one who migrated from the "smallies" and was scared, too those letters from one of the "biggies" were comforting, indeed.

An invalid for seven years, they And he penned those hilariously comical "Indoor Sports" and other copy from his bed! Sick as he was, Tad found time to prepare words of cheer to contemporaries whenever they wrote something that tickled his fancy. We quote his last letter in his own hand, chiefly to reveal the sort of fellow he was. "Dear Winchell," it read, "laughs come so seldom these days that I simply must thank you for the belly-vowel you handed me today with the Bank of Italy quip. Drop over some time, I'd like to help you with some I know.—Good wishes Tad."

ALWAYS BELITTLED

Judge, a three-jitney mag. contains, among other things, this repartee:

Mr. Winchell: How about a little giggle-water so we can drink the health of that phrail you're Garbo-Gilberting with? She's some vooom-vooom, and I'm that way about her myself.

Mr. Chinwell: Thanks for them coined words.

I get it. I get it!

INCIDENTALLY

Judge probably more than anyone else, will appreciate this classic from a Chicago paragrapher, who recently quipped: "F. P. A. Ashton Stevens, Walter Winchell, 'Skipper' and others have been fired off life by the new editor, who has also dropped the price down to a dime—and it's worth it!"

SHE BEGGED FOR IT

Mary Horan of the Henry Santry act hastens along the one about the waitress in a child's restaurant, who was irritated at most to the point of murder. The cranky old lady at one of her tables, it seems, had changed her mind at least half a dozen times. Finally she ordered a cup of cocoa, but the waitress carelessly placed a cup of coffee before her. "What is this?" almost screamed the old woman, "what is this? I say!" Everyone in the vicinity looked up.

DOING AND TELLING HOW.

There seems to be an inexhaustible supply of words to tell how things ought to be done. We have all sorts of theories, for instance, as to how schools ought to be conducted and as to how teachers ought to teach. This is the age of experts, but the experts are occupied with telling how. There doesn't seem to be any too much practical example.

FIGHTING AUTHORITY

The first step in crime, says a reformed convict, is conflict with authority. He says if there were more recreation centers where children might play instead of in the street—where they come into conflict with the police—they would grow up to be better boys and girls.

Conflict with authority is trouble that most of us encounter. These excessively free, bohemian folks who try to make light of all conventionality and all authority, are setting the most dangerous example to youth. High intelligence recognizes authority, and the power and value of conventionality. High intelligence never expects to be free. It thinks in terms of adjustment to those rules that are for the greater good of the greater number of people.

INVESTMENT

It is not strange that the ablest business men in any community are nearly always ready to give money to the Young Men's Christian Association. They recognize that in investing in the Y. M. C. A. is making an investment in youth. This organization is not a reform organization. It is a reformative, not a reformative. It is. They are going to build a new Y. M. C. A. building in Brooklyn. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has offered the huge sum of $725,000 toward the project. Big business men know real investments.

WHAT ELINOR GLYNN SAYS

Elinor Glynn defines happiness as doing what you want to do and finding satisfaction in doing it. Madame Glyn is reputed to know much about love. But there would be little happiness in this world if it was all confined by Elinor Glynn's definition. Most people do not do what they want to do except in very limited doses. Mostly they do what they have to do. Doing what you can do, and taking satisfaction in it, is knowledge that you are doing it as well as you can, may be as good a recipe for joy as the eminent Madame Glynn's.

GOVERNMENT AID TO SHIPPING DECLARED DETRIMENTAL

By JAMES A. FARRELL
President of the United States Steel Corporation.

(James A. Farrell was born in New Haven, Conn., Feb. 15, 1863. Received a public school education and began to work in the steel mills at the age of 16. Was a laborer in the mills of the Pittsburgh Wire Co. in 1889, later becoming its superintendent and manager. He organized a wire company at Braddock, Pa., which became a part of the American Steel and Wire Co., and he served as general manager of the exports until 1902. He became president of the United States Steel Corporation in 1911.)

The withdrawal of the government from the shipping industry will help American ships. Foreign nations resent the government aid given to American ships and will continue to discriminate against them until they are operated as a private enterprise.

The government should encourage the construction of ships by Americans, however, by loans and mail contracts and other means, and legislation that is now existent should be extended to encourage Americans to build for the future rather than for present-day demands.

Vessels of the shipping board carry only 5 per cent of American imports in 1928, while privately owned American vessels carried 44 per cent. The shipping board vessels carried 10 per cent of the exports and privately owned American vessels carried 23 1/2 per cent.

The prejudice aroused, has reacted more or less upon all American shipping, and it may be pertinent to ask whether the time has not come to warn against boasting of the peaceful activities of our ships, on their uneventful journeys to the markets overseas, as a manifestation of collective mass action since any vessel, whatever its flag, must give impartial service both to the countrymen of her owners and to the citizens of other nations who ship goods on her.

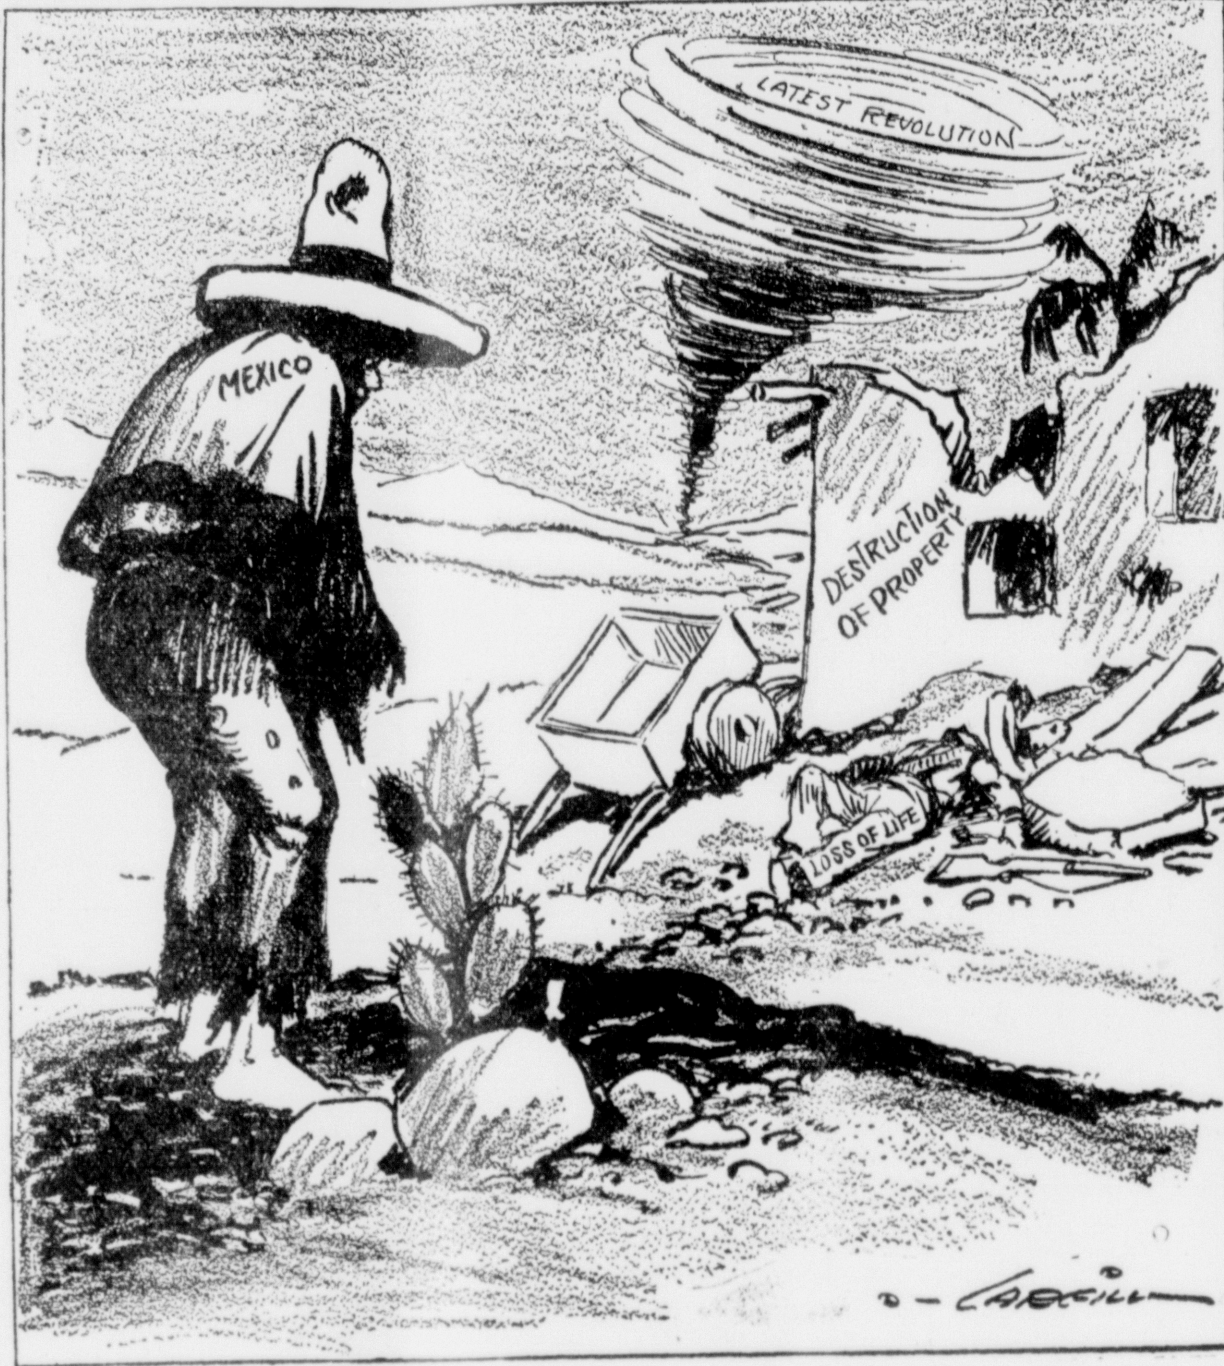

The fact that 1,500,000 tons of privately owned shipping engaged in foreign trade built largely before the war, at prices ranging from $80 to $120 per ton, is a fact which has survived and is still operating in competition with the fleets of the world speaks well for the perseverance of private management. Only the unbounded faith of private American shipowners in the soundness of their position, through the experience of years, and the efficiency of the men and material employed by them, has enabled them to survive artificial handicaps far greater than the economic burdens upon the operation of the ships themselves.

REAPING THE WHIRLWIND

How to Achieve Beauty

BY MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

Fashionable legs are slimmer than they used to be—there's no doubt about it. Faded pictures of former chorus girls, and even leading ladies, disclose the amply curving limbs that were admired in those days. But cushiony calves have gone the way of billowing hips and bosoms.

And the chick lovely lady of today chooses a figure of straight lines, and more subtle, graceful curves. She is learning fast how to keep it that way, too, with exercise or exercises (notice the difference between these two), and careful diet and reducing soaps or jellies.

One of the questions that I am asked oftenest is how to reduce the lower leg and ankle. Exercise can be used to do it, if patience and persistence are combined with the exercise. Here is an effective one to be practiced morning and night.

proportions are about the same throughout.

The southern worker not only draws an inferior wage but gives more hours for it than the New Englander.

The northern mills' week varies from 44 to 48 hours, and occasionally reaches 54. Southern plants run up to 60, and where night-and-day work is the rule, which is frequent, operate two daily shifts of 11 hours each.

For the southern mill hands' low pay and longer hours there are some offsets.

The employers quite generally have built villages for their employees, where rentals average 25 cents weekly per room—primitive housing, but in the main better than the New Englander's. Commissioners also are common in the south, where the workers can obtain the necessities of life at minimum prices.

Much stress is laid on the fact that southern mill labor is almost all Anglo-Saxon—that is, that the workers are of the same race and language as their employers, making for a better understanding and a more human relationship between the two groups than is possible in the north, where American employers are in constant contact with foreign employees.

In short, the argument is advanced that the southern worker is better off on $15 or $16 weekly than the New Englander on $21 to $24.

Nevertheless, recent strikes bespeak southern discontent.

Planked Steak Mashed Potatoes
Mushrooms
Lettuce, Young Onions, Radishes
with French Dressing
Strawberries Cakes

Tea or Coffee
Steak is the favorite dish of man, I believe, and women are not far behind in their approval. Steak is sometimes fried, but this is not considered by the best cooks by any means the best method of cooking it. Planked steak is a luxury and should be tried by all housewives who desire to give their families the very best of results with this delectable dish—as who does not?

Today's Recipes.

Planked Steak—This is a variation of the plain broiled steak. The steak should be cut about one and one-fourth inches thick. Broil in a hot broiler about eight minutes, turning four or five times. Set the steak on a hot plank. Pile hot mashed potatoes around the edge of the plank. Put three or four boiled onions on the steak. Brush over the edge of the potatoes and onions with the yolk of an egg, beaten and diluted with milk or water, and set the plank in a hot oven to brown and reheat the potatoes and finish cooking the steak. Remove from the oven, place upon it three or four baked tomatoes, hot from the oven, and serve at once.

Sugar Jumbles—One cup shortening, two cups granulated sugar, three eggs, well beaten; one-half cup sour milk, one teaspoon strawberry extract, four cups flour, two teaspoons soda, one-fourth teaspoon salt. Cream the shortening and sugar, add the eggs and beat well. Mix and sift the dry ingredients and add alternately with the sour milk to the first mixture. Flavor with the strawberry extract. This gives the cookies a touch of distinction, but another flavoring may be substituted if preferred. Drop from a teaspoon on a well oiled baking sheet and press a raisin into the top of each cookie. Sprinkle granulated sugar over some of them before baking will give an attractive variation. Bake in a moderate oven—350 degrees—for twelve minutes. Make about five dozen cookies.

Diet and Health

BY LULU HUNT PETERS, M.D. AUTHOR OF "DIET AND HEALTH" AND "DIET FOR CHILDREN"

The Use of Oleomargarine Instead of Butter.

"We are one of many families who use oleomargarine instead of butter. We use a high-grade vegetable margarine because it is cheaper than butter and because we like it. We are four adults in the family and use three pounds a week."

"Will you please tell us what difference this makes in our intake of the elements necessary to health?"

MRS. W.

Oleomargarines are made of vegetable or animal fats (not butter) and, with one exception, are exactly as good as butter, Mrs. W. The one exception is the content of Vitamin A. Some of the margarines are churned up with milk or cream and do get some of the vitamin A from this process. In England they are now incorporating fish liver oil in their margarines (very high in vitamin A).

Butter—depending upon the feed of the cow—also varies in its content of vitamin A, but Sherman says, in his latest edition of Food Products: "It appears, however safe to say that none of the butter substitutes approaches good butter in vitamin A value, and that butter, even when of poor quality, is likely to be much richer in vitamins than any other commercial form of food fat."

Vitamin A is supremely necessary for growth and for proper functioning, especially of the mucous membranes. A lack of this vitamin retards growth in children and predisposes the mucous membranes to disease. (The mucous membranes line the passages which connect with the outside of the body, so the respiratory, intestinal and urinary tracts and the ears and eyes are involved.) So it is wise if you use margarines to make conscious efforts to get your vitamin A in your other foods. Where there are children in the family, it would be better to give them butter, and the adults could use the margarines.

All children should have at least three glasses to a quart of milk daily, and adults two glasses, not only because of its vitamin A content but because of its important calcium and its biologically complete protein. The other foods besides butter that have vitamin A in high concentration are: cod liver oil, cream, eggs, milk (whole dried or fresh), spinach (raw, canned or dried), tomatoes, wheat embryo, squash, potatoes, pineapple, peas, lettuce, dandelion greens, cheese, celery, carrots, cabbage, whole milk whole wheat bread, beans.

The vitamin A seems to be bound up with the coloring matter, especially the green and yellow, of the foods, so the green and yellow vegetables are high in it. The leaf lettuce is better for this purpose than head lettuce.

We have an article on Balanced Diet which gives a list of good books on dietetics.

Mrs. A. — For 5 ft. 3 inches in height, your weight should be around 125. You weigh 225 pounds—100 pounds overweight! No wonder you are suffering from high blood pressure. While overweight is not always accompanied by high blood pressure, it very frequently is. The unbalanced diet which brought on the overweight, and the great increase in the pressure necessary for the heart and blood vessels to pump blood through the excess fat, and the disturbance of the circulation are what cause it. Reduction of the weight in these cases reduces the pressure. You have your cue, Mrs. A.

Our articles on blood pressure and reducing will help you. See column rules.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

There is one thing that law cannot do, no matter how stringent it is, and that is, control our tongues. Of course we can go too far and slander our neighbors or make such a noise that we are a public nuisance, and then the law can step in. But we can say hateful things and hurt people unthinkingly and the law cannot do a thing.

A woman writes me to ask if anything can be done through a lawyer to stop her mother-in-law from making hateful remarks and trying to dominate her home. Her husband is 45 years old, but he still allows his mother to influence him so that, after a visit to her, he comes home and says hateful things to his wife.

I'm afraid there is not a thing to do but remember that she is old and probably won't be with you always, and pray for strength to bear with her. If you are slandered on can sue, you know, but just mean remarks of a general are not actionable by law. Just be thankful that you don't have to live with her, and I think the next time Friend Husband comes from her home I would plan to be out, and tell him why.

UNHAPPY is at that most delectable age—18, is pretty and respectable and all that, but isn't popular. Boy friends come to see her, take her out a time or two and then drop her. Can I give her any advice?

It's a pretty difficult thing to do at long distance, dear. Are you self-conscious, self-centered, afraid they won't like you if you act natural, and therefore stiff?

Or are you quick to take offense, or so afraid you will appear to be "running after" them that you snub them, and they think you don't like them? If you are jolly and genuinely interested and friendly, capable of spreading a little flattering salve—of "kiddie" if they don't.

ding" a chap into thinking he's pretty fine, without overdoing it, well, if you do all that and still aren't popular I don't know what the answer is.

Pertinent remarks from HONEY LOU's letter: "Boys take me out for the first time and seem to be interested, but when they discover that I don't care for 'necking,' drinking or smoking they seem to lose interest. I simply HATE the idea of letting ANY boy kiss me, and still they expect it. Aren't there ANY boys who care for girls who don't 'neck,' drink or smoke? Do boys really enjoy it so? My cousin tells me that boys respect a girl more who doesn't, but if they do, why on earth do they prefer taking out the girls who do? I would like to know how the boys feel about it. Isn't there some boy who REALLY likes girls who aren't considered so dreadfully 'hot'?"

There are boys—I happen to know some—who dislike it as much as girls—except with the ONE girl, who and dislike girls who do it. I know exactly how you feel, and if the boys you know now don't pay attention to you just make yourself happy without them until some boy comes along who wants a nice girl pal. He'll come all right, so don't you worry. You don't have to cheapen yourself by submitting to any boy's pawing. And just a word more in the boys' defense. They may think you expect "hot" and won't think them so "hot" if they don't.

Peter's Adventures

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

VOICE-IN-THE-NIGHT

Very few little boys are as fortunate as Peter, the hero of this story who learns his nature lessons from the birds and trees and beasts without the aid of books. Peter, you know, has the magic power of speech with all the animals and creatures of the sky and field so they whisper to him their secrets. Once upon a time Peter saved the life of the Old Oak Tree and the tree in gratitude gave him this wonderful power.

Read on and you will hear the story, of why the Loon laughs, which his old friend, is telling Peter.

Sitting upon his tail, Loon began his story. "Once upon a time, long, long ago, when the world was young, there was peace over the land. Here in the northland Two-Legs and Four-Legs and the birds of the air lived together and were friends, and the Two-Legs were not white and shinning like the sun at noon, but had red skins and were called Indians, and over all the world ruled the Redskin warrior, Brave-Heart."

"Now, Brave-Heart loved all his people, whether their legs numbered two or four, but best of all he loved Voice-in-the-Night, the Loon, for Voice-in-the-Night was his faithful companion when they went to hunt, and not for even to save the life of one of his winged friends would Voice-in-the-Night leave his master's side. "Through all kinds of weather, through all times and merry ones, Brave-Heart and Voice-in-the-Night roamed the woods together. "One day some God of the Red Men, stronger than Brave-Heart himself, sent Brave-Heart away and Voice-in-the-Night was left alone. He was very sad, nor would he be comforted, not even when other Loons were sent to make him glad. He set out to find his master, and he chose to travel by night, thinking then when the world was quiet, Brave-Heart must hear his voice and answer him. "All the time Voice-in-the-Night kept calling, 'Oooooo-o-o-o-o-o' (Where are you?)

"And when an echo answered he thought it was his master calling and then ro happy was he that he would laugh like this, 'Ooooh-ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh. (Hurrah! Hurrah! There you are! Brave-Heart! There you are!) only to find it was but the echoes that had mocked him. From that day until this all Loons have laughed and called like Voice-in-the-Night."

"There was one of the best stories I have ever heard," cried Peter. "Gee willikins! I wish every day I could tell me a tale like that!"

"Not all of us know such interesting things about our great great grandfathers," chuckled Father Wild Gander. "If the truth was told about mine I suppose he was as great a Goose as ever waved a pinion. He was probably a modest chap though, just like myself, and didn't think he had ever done anything worth while telling his children about. "Ahem! I have met more modest Geese in my life than my husband," commented Mother Wild Goose winking one eye at Peter. "But never a better one! Your ancestors must have been very brave and strong to have hunted with the chief of the Redskins, Loon. I should think you would be the proudest bird in the Northland."

COATES BARBER SHOP DEFEATS ROTARY IN AMERICAN OPENER

Parading eleven runs across the plate in the first inning, the Coates Barber Shop nine opened the American League softball season with a 21 to 9 victory over the Rotary Club team in a game which was limited to seven innings by agreement Wednesday night at Cox Memorial Athletic Field.

The contest was a slugfest, almost from the start to finish and was featured by numerous home runs, including two circuit clouts by "Atlas" Smith and one by Fred McCurran.

Herbert Wells, on the mound for the winners, limited Rotarians to six hits, while Coates collected fif-

FRAMED by Phil

Baseball's rarest feat and the ambition of every pitcher—a no-hit, no-run game—was accomplished Wednesday by Carl Hubbell, star southpaw of the New York Giants, who blanked the slugging Pittsburgh Pirates, 11 to 0, without permitting a hit or run.

Records disclose that Hubbell's performance marked the first no-hit game in the major leagues since Ted Lyons of the Chicago White Sox eased the Boston Red Sox down without a safe hit August 1, 1926, winning 6 to 0.

No-hit games in the major leagues date back to July 28, 1875, when Joseph E. Borden, of the Philadelphia National Association team, retired Chicago without a safety.

The first perfect no-hit game, in which no one reached first base in the innings, was pitched by J. Lee Richmond, of the Worcester Nationals against Cleveland on June 12, 1880.

There have been six games of this kind, Ernest Shore of the Boston Red Sox being given belated credit for his contest of June 23, 1917, when he replaced Ruth in the first inning against Washington with none out and a man on first.

This runner was caught stealing following Shore's entrance to the game. The next twenty-six batters were retired in order.

The longest no-hit game was pitched by Sam Kimber of the Brooklyn Association club against Toledo on October 4, 1884, the game going eleven innings.

Counting Hubbell's performance, there have been a total of 161 nine-inning no-hit games pitched in the major leagues, in addition to four of more than nine innings and six in which no player reached first base.

Hubbell is only 25 years of age, is six feet tall and weighs 170 pounds. His performance was not quite perfect inasmuch as four Pirate batters reached first base on errors and a walk. He gave a particular cool exhibition in the ninth when his teammates became over-anxious and made two misplays, putting two runners on base. Hubbell bore down, struck out Lloyd Waner and forced brother Paul to hit into a double play. Hats off to him.

IZAAK WALTON PENDRY

Harper Pendry, city school superintendent at Ironton, O., former superintendent of Xenia public schools, is self-appointed champion fisherman of Lawrence County, he has disclosed to Xenia friends. He recently caught thirty-seven pounds of bass as the sum total of five fishing excursions and wants this feat called to the particular attention of M. C. Smith, John Ary, William Smith and James Adair.

WITTENBERG TIES ANTIOCH MATCHES

Antioch College and Wittenberg College tennis teams, in a match on the courts at Yellow Springs Wednesday afternoon, quit with honors even.

Four singles matches and two doubles matches were played, each team winning two singles events and one doubles match.

Captain Rutnam, of Antioch, won his singles match in straight sets, defeating Wittenberg's ranking No. 2 player, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1. Kumlner, Antioch, defeated Morris, Wittenberg ranking No. 1 player, 6-4, 5-7, 6-3.

Hurlbut and Earley lost their singles matches. In the doubles, Antioch's two-man team of Rutnam and Kumlner won its match, while the other doubles pair, Hurlbut and Bacon, lost its match after forcing its opponents to three sets.

"I am so happy
... that the last pimple is gone"

EVERY evening thousands enjoy themselves at dinner-parties, dances, theatres, games, clubs. Many thousands more are denied the joy of such merriment and happiness.

Maybe this denial is due to a skin trouble. First impressions cannot be good without a clear skin—first impressions are quickly made and are not soon forgotten. Old friends may excuse pimples and secretly sympathize, but new acquaintances may not be so charitable. Skin blemishes are not inviting. Neither can they be covered up. They embarrass. Hold people back. Steal away joy and happiness.

A lovely—clear skin—is within the reach of all. To those who have lost it, hope is offered. You, too, may have a beautiful skin, rose-petal in texture, pretty as a picture and without a single pimple.

Many thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking S.S.S. It is Nature's own blood tonic for raising the body's power of resistance to disease, improving the appetite, building firm flesh, and clearing the skin.

S.S.S. is made from fresh vegetable drugs and has a successful record of over 100 years back of it.

Take S.S.S. at meal-time. You will be delighted with its blood building and tonic effect.

All Drug Stores sell S.S.S. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTES
"IT'S TOASTED"

Conflicting Arguments
have been unable to halt the rapidly increasing tendency of the public to adopt Lucky Strike as its favorite cigarette. Lucky Strike is a blend of choice tobaccos whose toasted flavor thrills the taste, whose toasting process eliminates impurities, and, as 20,679 physicians testify, makes Luckies less irritating. Toasting elevates Lucky Strike to a plane of quality which no other cigarette can approach. The constant care of experts assures the quality of Luckies. Its choice by millions proves its superiority and is the truthful answer to selfish claims.

COATES BARBER SHOP DEFEATS ROTARY IN AMERICAN OPENER

Parading eleven runs across the plate in the first inning, the Coates Barber Shop nine opened the American League softball season with a 21 to 9 victory over the Rotary Club team in a game which was limited to seven innings by agreement Wednesday night at Cox Memorial Athletic Field.

The contest was a slugfest, almost from the start to finish and was featured by numerous home runs, including two circuit clouts by "Atlas" Smith and one by Fred McCarran.

Herman Wells, on the mound for the winners, limited Rotarians to six hits, while Coates collected fifteen safe drives off the delivery of Russ Kimber, Rotary hurler.

The Lang Chevrolet Co. and Xenia Central High School softball teams will make their debut in a National League game at the athletic field Thursday night at 6:30.

Rotary lineup: Baldner, 3b; Cole, lf; Kimber, p; Stout, 1b; Ervin, 2b; Miller, rf; T. McClellan, c; Hammerle, cf; Cox, ss; Sayre, 2b; S. McClellan, rf; Drake, ss.

Coates lineup: Hagler, 2b; McPadden, c; Brennan, rf; Stiles, 3b; Conklin, lf; Herr, ss; Smith, 1b; F. McCarran, cf; Wells, p; Goodin, ss.

Score by innings:
Rotary 0 0 1 2 3 3 0—9
Coates 11 5 4 1 0 9 x—21
Umpires—Custer at plate; Rachford on bases.

SPORT SNAPSHOTS

Baseball's rarest feat and the ambition of every pitcher—a no-hit, no-run game—was accomplished Wednesday by Carl Hubbell, star southpaw of the New York Giants, who blanked the slugging Pittsburgh Pirates, 11 to 0, without permitting a hit or run.

Records disclose that Hubbell's performance marked the first no-hit game in the major leagues since Ted Lyons of the Chicago White Sox eased the Boston Red Sox down without a safe hit August 1, 1926, winning 6 to 0.

No-hit games in the major leagues date back to July 28, 1875, when Joseph E. Borden, of the Philadelphia National Association team, retired Chicago without a safety.

The first perfect no-hit game, in which no one reached first base in nine innings, was pitched by J. Lee Richmond, of the Worcester Nationals against Cleveland on June 12, 1880.

There have been six games of this kind, Ernest Shore of the Boston Red Sox being given batted credit for his contest of June 23, 1917, when he replaced Ruth in the first inning against Washington with none out and a man on first. This runner was caught stealing following Shore's entrance to the game. The next twenty-six batters were retired in order.

The longest no-hit game was pitched by Sam Kimber of the Brooklyn Association club against Toledo on October 4, 1884, the game going eleven innings.

Counting Hubbell's performance, there have been a total of 101 nine-inning no-hit games pitched in the major leagues, in addition to four of more than nine innings and six

Counting Hubbell's performance, there have been a total of 101 nine-inning no-hit games pitched in the major leagues, in addition to four of more than nine innings and six

in which no player reached first base.

Hubbell is only 25 years of age, is six feet tall and weighs 170 pounds. His performance was not quite perfect inasmuch as four Pirate batters reached first base on errors and a walk. He gave a particular cool exhibition in the ninth when his teammates became over-anxious and made two misplays, putting two runners on base.

Hubbell bore down, struck out Lloyd Waner and forced brother Paul to hit into a double play. Hats off to him.

Harper Pendry, city school superintendent at Ironton, O., former superintendent of Xenia public schools, is self-appointed champion fisherman of Lawrence County. He has disclosed to Xenia friends. He recently caught thirty-seven pounds of bass as the sum total of five fishing excursions and wants this feat called to the particular attention of M. C. Smith, John Ary, William Smith and James Adair.

Wittenberg Ties Antioch Matches

Antioch College and Wittenberg College tennis teams, in a match on the courts at Yellow Springs Wednesday afternoon, quit with honors even.

Four singles matches and two doubles matches were played, each team winning two singles events and one doubles match.

Captain Rutnam, of Antioch, won his singles match in straight sets, defeating Wittenberg's ranking No. 2 player, 6-1, 6-1. Kumlner, Antioch, defeated Morris, Wittenberg ranking No. 1 player, 6-4, 5-7, 6-3.

Hurlbut and Earley lost their singles matches. In the doubles, Antioch's two-man team of Rutnam and Kumlner won its match, while the other doubles pair, Hurlbut and Bacon, lost its match after forcing its opponents to three sets.

Wilmington College's baseball team registered its second victory in the C. A. W. W. League in as many days at the expense of Antioch College, winning 9 to 6 on the Yellow Springs diamond Wednesday afternoon.

Wilmington has now won two league games without being defeated, and in that respect shares first place with Wilberforce, which has played and won each of its first four league contests.

Confer, Antioch pitcher, was hit hard all the way but hurled the entire game.

PUBLIC SCHOOL FIELD MEET AND BOY SCOUT JAMBOREE FRIDAY

Annual "May Day" field meet of the Xenia public schools, postponed from May 1, will be held in Shawnee Park and at Cox Memorial Athletic Field Friday afternoon, May 10.

Unless weather conditions are unfavorable for the athletic events, in which case the meet will be postponed until a later date, pupils will go directly to the park after the afternoon attendance is taken in home rooms Friday.

The Xenia Central Senior High and Junior High School meet will take place at the athletic field. The 4-6 and 1-3 grade school meets will be held in Shawnee Park, west of the athletic field.

In practically all the grades, elimination contests have been held to select representatives from each home room. Two pupils from each home room in the grades may enter each event. No pupil may enter more than one event.

High School seniors will conduct the grade meets and teachers will be judges in the selection of winners.

Fifteen events for boys and girls comprise the program in the combined senior-junior high meet. Each class is allowed two representatives in each event and every class is to elect a captain to be responsible for entrants.

Twelve events, including six for girls and six for boys, compose the program for the two grade meets.

In connection with the field day exercises, the second annual Boy Scout jamboree to which the public is also invited to attend, will be held at 4 p. m. Friday at the Scout reservation north of the athletic field.

This jamboree was arranged as a preliminary to the similar exercises at Springfield May 18 and contests have been arranged in knot tying, fire building, water boiling, wall scaling, relay races, and chariot races.

Prizes will be awarded to winning contestants at the next Xenia Court of Honor scheduled for Friday, May 24.

Scouts of Troops No. 40, 41, 45 and 62 and several troops from other parts of the county will take part in this jamboree. All troops taking part are to compete with other troops of Tecumseh Area at the Area Jamboree in Springfield the following week.

The program will last about an hour and there will be plenty of parking space available for autos. S. N. McClellan, A. V. Miller and C. S. Frazer will act as judges for the Scout contests.

Following is a schedule of events for the two grade school meets:

- Grades 4 to 6 and grades 1 to 3:
- 1:15—Boys' 50-yard dash, sixth grade, first grade.
 - 1:25—Boys' 50-yard dash, fifth grade, second grade.
 - 1:35—Boys' 50-yard dash, fourth grade, first grade.
 - 1:45—Girls' 50-yard dash, sixth grade, third grade.
 - 1:55—Girls' 50-yard dash, fifth grade, second grade.
 - 2:05—Girls' 50-yard dash, fourth grade, first grade.
 - 2:15—Boys' Broad Jump, sixth grade, third grade.
 - 2:25—Boys' Broad Jump, fifth grade, second grade.
 - 2:35—Boys' Broad Jump, fourth grade, first grade.
 - 2:45—Girls' Potato Race, sixth grade, third grade.
 - 2:55—Girls' Potato Race, fifth grade, second grade.
 - 3:05—Girls' Potato Race, fourth grade, first grade.
- Following is a list of events for the joint senior-junior high meet:
- 1:00—50-yard dash, junior high.
 - 1:10—3 legged race, girls.
 - 1:25—50-yard dash, senior high.
 - 1:35—220-yd. dash, junior high.
 - 1:40—50-yard dash, girls.
 - 1:50—220-yard dash, senior high.
 - 2:00—Broad jump, junior high.
 - 2:10—Broad jump, senior high.
 - 2:25—100-yard dash, senior high.
 - 2:30—High Jump, junior high.
 - 3:00—Junior Hi Cross Country.

WIFE IS PLAINTIFF IN DIVORCE ACTION HERE; COURT NEWS

Because of her husband's alleged fault finding and abusive conduct, Irene M. Shearer has brought suit for divorce from Roy N. Shearer, Osborn, on grounds of extreme cruelty, in Common Pleas Court. They were married at Dayton February 14, 1925. No children were born of the union.

Asserting she was compelled to leave her husband May 2, the plaintiff asks to be decreed permanent alimony, fair division of their property and restoration to her maiden name of Arnett.

EXECUTRIXES NAMED

Mary L. Tate has been appointed executrix of the estate of Georgianna E. Green, late of Bellbrook and has filed bond of $2500 in Probate Court.

Kathryn Daniel Morris has been named executrix of the estate of Jesse Morris late of Cedarville, bond being dispensed with.

ESTATE VALUED

Gross value of the estate of Newton Lebetter, deceased, is estimated at $3,423 in Probate Court. Debts, including the cost of administration, amount to $761, leaving a net, market value of $2,662.

RE-CAPTURE PRISONER

CHILLICOTHE, May 9.—Keith Wilt of Shirley, Ind., one of four convicts who escaped from the federal reformatory here, has been recaptured. Another man was captured shortly after the escape. Capture of the other two was expected today. Wilt was retaken with an automobile stolen from the chief clerk of the prison.

Untreated Check

Semesan Jr. Treated

A seed treatment which will add 7 bushels an acre to your yield, is certainly worth using! That is what happened on Overlook Farms, in Illinois, where the above photo was taken, when seed corn was treated with Du Bay Semesan Jr., the most effective dust disinfectant. Root rot infections which result in crop losses by seedling blight, plant barrenness, nubbin-bearing stalks, rotted roots and down corn are controlled by Semesan Jr. U. S. Dept. of Agriculture Circular 34 reports that Semesan Jr. gave increased average yields of 1.9

bushels per acre with nearly disease-free seed, and 12 bushels with diseased seed. Each day's delay in planting corn after normal planting time, means a loss of about 1 bushel per acre in yield. Semesan Jr. makes early planting safer by protecting seed against rotting even when the soil is cold and wet. Semesan Jr. costs less than 3c an acre for field corn. Applied easily and quickly as a dust at the rate of 2 ounces per bushel of seed field and sweet corn. It kills only disease; harmless to seed. Ask us for free Semesan Jr. pamphlet.

A SILK umbrella—dozens of them in the newest styles and colors.

A STRING of pearl, amber, crystal or jet beads. Fashionable, inexpensive.

PERFUME by Coty, Houbigant, Chermay, Hudenut and other good makers.

A NEW ARTIFICIAL flower for dress or coat. Stylish, appropriate.

HANDKERCHIEFS, just hundreds of them from all over the world.

A DECK or two of Congress Playing Cards for bridge playing mothers.

SILK HOSIERY, the universally appreciated gift. Choose from such nationally known lines as Gotham Gold Stripe, Wayne Knit, Kayser and La France. A splendid selection.

PHILIPPINE and Porto Rican gowns, daintily hand embroidered.

SILK CHEMISE and gowns in many styles and shades.

RAYON BLOOMERS, vests, chemise, or gowns—good looking inexpensive.

HOUSE FROCKS and Aprons—Styles that vie with fine silk dresses.

A HAT BOX, suit case or bag for vacation travel. Many good styles.

A LINEN lunch set or cloth, perhaps a nice towel or two. Linens always please.

Underprivileged Boy Is Chief Criminal Source

Club Plans Sure Method of Preventing Crime, Says Engineer

JOHN HAYS HAMMOND, famous mining engineer and humanitarian, declares that the boys' clubs are the one practical method for suppressing crime among young delinquents.

"The underprivileged boys," he said, "constitute about two-thirds of the entire boy population of the country, whose parents, for the most part, were aliens, without adequate conception of the political and social institutions of the nation."

What happens to young boys whose parents have neither the time nor inclination to take an interest in how their sons are spending their adolescent hours? The result was only too evident up until a decade ago.

These unfortunate boys, lacking the advantages of the child of intelligent, right-living parents, were drawn into juvenile delinquencies which later led to reformatories and often lives of crime. Then came the boys' club movement.

This has developed, says Mr. Hammond, into one of the finest institutions in the lives of these "underprivileged" boys. Furthermore, its remarkable influence often reaches to the alien parents themselves.

JOHN HAYS HAMMOND

Mr. Hammond points out a subtle aspect to this method of reform which is at once pathetic and humorous.

"The great success of these clubs," he says, "may be attributed to the fact that they have capitalized the gang life, the gregarious spirit inherent in youth. Youth, after all, learns largely from youth. It will not learn from rules imposed upon it."

titanic struggle which has been going on for the control of New England's water power resources.

Opposition Press Wrathful

Opposition press drew a quick inference: that the "power trust" was attempting to muzzle freedom of the press and to buy public opinion, by gaining control of these two great organs of publicity. State and nation took cognizance of the situation, while editorial writers viewed with alarm, and office-holders made speeches.

The three trustees who had been given power over the paper company stock said little. They were Philip Stockton, John R. Macomber and Sidney W. Winslow, Jr., presidents respectively of a bank, a banking house and the great United Shoe Machinery Corporation.

Archibald R. Graustein, appearing before the joint rules committee of the Massachusetts legislature to work considering an investigation. Spurred on by U. S. Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, the Federal Trade Commission formally began an inquiry and summoned witnesses. Newspapers thundered denunciation, and countless meetings passed condemning resolutions.

One newspaper even went so far as to print a nightly "honor roll," giving pictures and records of legislators who were on the side of the "people" in the controversy. If New England children don't look fearfully under their beds at night for an ogre in the form of a large man with a fat cigar, and "Power Trust" written on his shirtfront, it isn't the fault of publicity.

How It Began

The whole thing began when some bright-eyed individual noticed a slight change in the statement of ownership of the Boston Publishing Company, publishers of the Boston Herald and Boston Traveler, two of the most powerful and widely-circulated of New England's dailies.

An investigation of the change disclosed that some months before the International Paper Company had quietly gained control of the publishing company, and thereby of the two newspapers. On the face of it, there seemed nothing about the procedure, except perhaps for the apparent lack of publicity given the change.

It would be perfectly natural for a newspaper company to obtain a steady outlet for its product, and the uproar never would have occurred, except for the fact that the International Paper Company is only a subsidiary of the International Paper and Power Company. The latter company controls the New England Power Association, and that, in turn, has been

When your Children Cry for It

Mothers, who take one simple precaution, are seldom worried. With a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria in the house they can do what their doctor would tell them to do, when baby is fretful, feverish, colicky, constipated or stuffed-up with cold—give a few drops of this pure vegetable, pleasant-tasting preparation. It comforts baby and soothes him to sleep in a jiffy. It's perfectly safe for the youngest infant. Use it freely—and as often as needed, specialists advise. A more liberal dose is all it takes to comfort and relieve older children, when feverishness, bad breath, no appetite, colds, etc., show they need a good purgative. The mark of genuine Castoria is the Fletcher signature on the wrapper. Look for it to avoid imitations.

Testimony Before Commission Before the Federal Trade Commission, Graustein admitted that the International Paper and Power company owned stock in thirteen American newspapers. Publishers of several of the newspapers named have issued denials.

The general public has viewed the whole situation with considerable bewilderment. Meanwhile the Samuel L. Insull interests, midwestern opponents of the International Paper and Power Company in the struggle for the "white gold" of New England's rushing streams, have indulged in a few quick chuckles.

HOLE-IN-ONE
MUIRFIELD, Scotland, May 9. —R. D. Mathieson, Edinburgh amateur golfer and former boy champion, scored a hole-in-one while playing in the qualifying round of the British open today. Mathieson's prize shot was on the fourth hole of the Muirfield course, 180 yards.

His score for the first eighteen holes of the qualifying round yesterday was ninety-three.

BECKY BRADLEY'S ROBBERY AGAIN IN TEXAS LEGAL FIGHT

LA GRANGE, Tex., May 9.—That Becky Bradley Rogers, convicted girl bank robber, never will go to prison is the confident declaration of Otis Rogers, her lawyer-husband after more than two years of successful battle in her behalf.

If she is ordered retried here today it will be the third jury she has faced. A first jury found she set fire to an untenanted house at Round Rock, Tex., as part of a plan to rob a bank while the townspeople fought the fire. The jurors disagreed on whether she was mentally responsible and a mistrial resulted.

A second jury tried her here in December, 1927, for the robbery of the Farmers National Bank of Buda, Tex., on Dec. 11, 1926. They found her responsible and assessed her punishment at fourteen years imprisonment.

The Texas court of criminal appeals found the prosecutor's plea to the jury inflammatory and ordered a retrial. It is the trial scheduled for today.

Many believe the case will have to be transferred because of inability to get an unprejudiced jury in a county where a trial attracted so much interest before.

Removal Point in Doubt

In case of removal the location of a new trial is doubtful. The case was transferred from Hays County, where the bank was situated, because of local feeling. In Williamson County the arson trial is still fresh in memory and in Travis County, the case is even more discussed by Becky Bradley was a trusted employee of Gov. Dan Moody (then attorney general) when the Buda bank was robbed.

Travis County also witnessed a virtual trial of the case when habeas corpus proceedings were held to force her release on bond by Hays County officers. The state university is in Travis County and Mrs. Rogers was a University co-ed and instructor's assistant. Her husband was head of the student council.

Rogers had a few months before completing her law course and was starting practice at Amarillo. None knew at the University that he and Becky Bradley had been married. They were keeping it secret until he got a start. When news of the bank robbery reached Amarillo it had no special interest to him. Then followed the news that Becky Bradley, assistant in the state attorney general's office, was held for the daring hold-up.

Rogers left a sick bed, hurried to Austin, announced the marriage and took up the defense of his bride.

Victim of Pneumonia
Pneumonia resulted from his trip to her aid. For months he lay at the point of death. It was her turn to aid. She nursed him until he was able to go to Carlsbad and enter a sanitarium. To be near him she worked as a telephone operator at San Angelo until her trial.

If the new trial is held, many believe that she will fling aside the former defense of dementia praecox. Her husband has always contended she was innocent and was reluctant to make the mentality plea.

In that event the case will go before a jury on denial that she was the slight girl who entered the Buda bank one rainy Saturday, represented herself as a reporter gathering crop planting data; was given permission to come "inside" the fixtures to use a typewriter and then with a revolver backed the cashier and assistant into the bank vault, locked them in, grabbed up $1,000 in currency and fled.

Becky Bradley's car on a wash rack at Austin attracted the attention of officers searching for the coupe in which the bank robber had driven away. The money was located in the Austin post office. It had been placed in a box and mailed to a sub station.

BECKY BRADLEY'S ROBBERY AGAIN IN TEXAS LEGAL FIGHT

LA GRANGE, Tex., May 7.—That Becky Bradley Rogers, convicted girl bank robber, never will go to prison is the confident declaration of Otis Rogers, her lawyer-husband after more than two years of successful battle in her behalf.

If she is ordered retried here today it will be the third jury she has faced. A first jury found she set fire to an untenanted house at Round Rock, Tex., as part of a plan to rob a bank while the townspeople fought the fire. The jurors disagreed on whether she was mentally responsible and a mistrial resulted.

A second jury tried her here in December, 1927, for the robbery of the Farmers National Bank of Buda, Tex., on Dec. 11, 1926. They found her responsible and assessed her punishment at fourteen years imprisonment.

The Texas court of criminal appeals found the prosecutor's plea to the jury inflammatory and ordered a retrial. It is the trial scheduled for today.

Many believe the case will have to be transferred because of inability to get an unprejudiced jury in a county where a trial attracted so much interest before.

Removal Point in Doubt
In case of removal the location of a new trial is doubtful. The case was transferred from Hays County, where the bank was situated, because of local feeling. In Williamson County the arson trial is still fresh in memory and in Travis County, the case is even more discussed for Becky Bradley was a trusted employee of Gov. Dan Moody (then attorney general) when the Buda bank was robbed.

Travis County also witnessed a virtual trial of the case when habeas corpus proceedings were held to force her release on bond by Hays County officers. The state university is in Travis County and Mrs. Rogers is a University co-ed and instructor's assistant. Her husband was head of the student council.

Rogers had a few months before completed his law course and was starting practice at Amarillo. None knew at the University that he and Becky Bradley had been married. They were keeping it secret until he got a start. When news of the bank robbery reached Amarillo it had no special interest to him. Then followed the news that Becky Bradley, assistant in the state attorney general's office, was held for the daring hold-up.

Rogers left a sick bed, hurried to Austin, announced the marriage and took up the defense of his bride.

Victim of Pneumonia
Pneumonia resulted from his trip to her aid. For months he lay at the point of death. It was her turn to aid. She nursed him until he was able to go to Carlsbad and enter a sanitarium. To be near him she worked as a telephone operator at San Angelo until her trial.

If the new trial is held, many believe that she will fling aside the former defense of dementia praeox. Her husband has always contended she was innocent and was reluctant to make the mentality plea.

To Identify Genuine Aspirin

THE increasing use of Bayer Aspirin every year is proof that it has no ill effects. It is the accepted antidote for pain. It always helps; it never harms. Quick relief when you've a headache, or cold; or are suffering from neuralgia or neuritis. Rheumatic pains yield, too, if you'll only give these tablets a chance. But you want genuine Aspirin, so look for the Bayer Cross on every tablet. The box always bears the name Bayer and the word genuine printed in red.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

TWO CANDIDATES FOR NATURALIZATION

Rudolph Broda, associate professor of social science at Antioch College, and Miss Alice Bingle, Antioch student, will become full fledged citizens of the United States providing they successfully pass their final naturalization examination in Common Pleas Court next Monday.

They are the only two applicants for citizenship papers. The examination will probably be conducted by Edward J. Kennedy, Cincinnati representative of the department of interior.

Prof. Broda is a native of Austria and Miss Bingle was born in England.

TOLEDO DOCTOR IS
HONORED BY MEDICOS

CLEVELAND, O., May 9.—Dr. C. W. Waggoner of Toledo, was unanimously chosen president-elect of the Ohio State Medical Association, at the annual convention here today. He will assume office at next year's meeting.

Dr. A. H. Freiberg of Cincinnati, was installed as president for 1929 succeeding Dr. C. W. Stone of Cleveland.

Next year's meeting will be held in Columbus. New members elected to the state council included Dr. R. C. Hauser of Urbana, Dr. R. J. Schlosser of Defiance and Dr. F. R. Bush, Zanesville.

TENTH INFANTRY TO BE ENCAMPED HERE

En route to Columbus to take part in the army air maneuvers which will center about that city, starting the latter part of next week, the entire Tenth U. S. Infantry regiment, stationed at Fort Thomas, Ky., will be encamped at the Xenia Fairgrounds over night Thursday, May 16.

Arrangements for use of the fairgrounds were made by Col. Walden, commander of the regiment, with B. U. Bell, treasurer of the fair board, Wednesday.

Arriving here in thirty trucks about 1 p. m., the regiment, comprising 450 men, will remain here until the following morning. It will then be divided up, some of the soldiers going to Fairfield, some to London and others directly to Columbus for the air circus.

BODY RECOVERED

IRONTON, O., May 9.—The body of Bert Layne, 39, was found in backwaters of Storms Creek today when relatives started a search for him following his disappearance last night. He is believed to have fallen into the stream.

BRIDE TAKES POISON

CINCINNATI, May 9.—Mrs. Genevieve Honaker, 26, bride of five months is dead here from poison which police say was self administered. The woman's husband could advance no suicide motive.

STUDENT KILLED IN
AUTO ACCIDENT

BELLAIRE, O., May 9.—Jesse Brock, 20, of Wileysville, W. Va., was killed near Neffs, O., last night when an automobile driven by Velma Schneider, 16, of Shadyside, plunged from the road and landed in a creek.

Miss Schneider and Helen Brown, 19, of Shadyside and Ray Hill, 22, of Silverhill, W. Va., escaped unhurt.

Brock was a student at West Virginia State Normal, at West Liberty. Hill also is a student there.

TWO CANDIDATES FOR NATURALIZATION

Rudolph Broda, associate professor of social science at Antioch College, and Miss Alice Bingle, Antioch student, will become full fledged citizens of the United States providing they successfully pass their final naturalization examination in Common Pleas Court next Monday.

They are the only two applicants for citizenship papers. The examination will probably be conducted by Edward J. Kennedy, Cincinnati representative of the department of interior.

Prof. Broda is a native of Austria and Miss Bingle was born in England.

TOLEDO DOCTOR IS
HONORED BY MEDICOS

CLEVELAND, O., May 9.—Dr. C. W. Waggoner of Toledo, was unanimously chosen president-elect of the Ohio State Medical Association, at the annual convention here today. He will assume office at next year's meeting.

Dr. A. H. Freiberg of Cincinnati, was installed as president for 1929 succeeding Dr. C. W. Stone of Cleveland.

Next year's meeting will be held in Columbus. New members elected to the state council included Dr. R. C. Hauser of Urbana, Dr. R. J. Schlosser of Defiance and Dr. F. R. Bush, Zanesville.

BE ENCAMPED HERE

En route to Columbus to take part in the army air maneuvers which will center about that city, starting the latter part of next week, the entire Tenth U. S. Infantry regiment, stationed at Fort Thomas, Ky., will be encamped at the Xenia Fairgrounds over night Thursday, May 16.

Arrangements for use of the fairgrounds were made by Col. Waldron, commander of the regiment, with B. U. Bell, treasurer of the fair board, Wednesday.

Arriving here in thirty trucks about 1 p. m., the regiment, comprising 450 men, will remain here until the following morning. It will then be divided up, some of the soldiers going to Fairfield, some to London and others directly to Columbus for the air circus.

BODY RECOVERED

IRONTON, O., May 9.—The body of Bert Layne, 39, was found in backwaters of Storms Creek today when relatives started a search for him following his disappearance last night. He is believed to have fallen into the stream.

BRIDE TAKES POISON

CINCINNATI, May 9. — Mrs. Genevieve Honaker, 26, bride of five months is dead here from poison which police say was self administered. The woman's husband could advance no suicide motive.

STUDENT KILLED IN
AUTO ACCIDENT

BELLAIRE, O., May 9.—Jesse Brock, 20, of Wileysville, W. Va., was killed near Neffs, O., last night when an automobile driven by Velma Schneider, 16, of Shadyside, plunged from the road and landed in a creek.

Miss Schneider and Helen Brown, 19, of Shadyside and Ray Hill, 22, of Silverhill, W. Va., escaped unhurt.

Brock was a student at West Virginia State Normal at West Liberty. Hill also is a student there.

YEARS

No need now to let anything go un beautified because you "can't spare it." Transform chairs, tables, refrigerators, beds in a few hours with

Hanna's Chino-Gloss Enamel

As easy to use as ordinary paint!

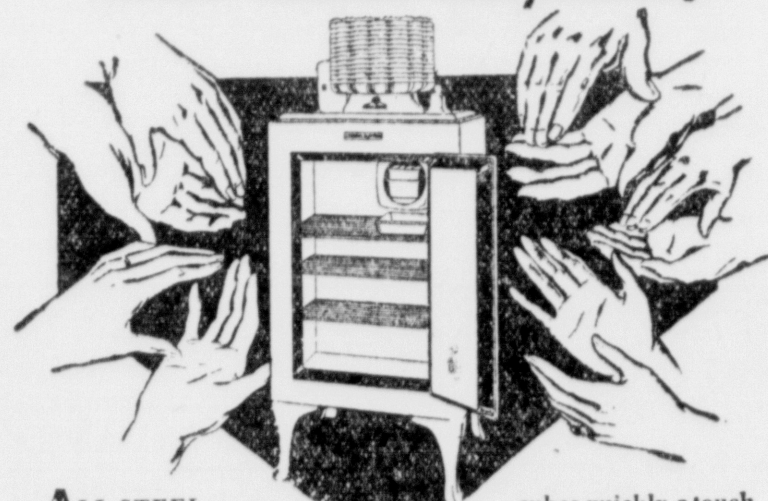

But it is a REAL enamel, and an economical one to use. A novice can apply it easily, leaving no brush marks, as it does not set too quickly. But it dries dust-proof in an hour, and handle-proof in four! Gives a durable, long-wearing finish—and washing only adds to its beauty. Ask for a color card.

UNIVERSALLY ACCLAIMED

The NEW General Electric
ALL-STEEL REFRIGERATOR
meets instant acceptance!

ALL-STEEL—a refrigerator which can't warp—a new construction which has revolutionized the art of refrigeration!

You can now own a less-costly-to-operate electric refrigerator with a warp-proof, all-steel cabinet—built like a safe, built with doors which will always fit perfectly. The mechanism, mounted on top, is permanently oiled, supremely quiet, utterly reliable. If you need ice cubes quickly, a touch of the easily accessible temperature control assures you they will be ready.

Prices of the six sizes are very low—the small family model sells for only $215, at the factory. Let us explain our convenient time payments.

Hear the General Electric Hour broadcast each Saturday 8 to 9 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, over the N. B. C. network of 42 stations.

UNDERGROUND A LOVE AND MYSTERY STORY

BY J. JEFFERSON FARJEON Copyright, 1929, by Central Press Association, Inc.

READ THIS FIRST:
The plot concerns some weird underground noises beneath a supposedly haunted house in Byford Moor. One day, Brown, a romantic young clerk, overhears a rough-looking man say to another: "After her! And if she's troublesome—don't be particular what you do to her!" Brown trails the girl, whose name is Jocelyn, to the house. He disappears. Charlie, one of his companions, follows Simon Brill, who is under suspicion, to a professor's house, known as Moor View. He meets the professor's daughter, Celia.

CHAPTER XXVI
The professor began to walk up and down the garden path—six little steps one way and six the other. His nerves seemed on the verge of snapping. Charlie, looking at him as though for the comfort of his prosaic solidity, murmured: "What does he mean?" "We met last night outside Comber House," responded Charlie, and the professor paused abruptly in his pacing, then as abruptly resumed it again. "Mr. Brill tried to impress us with the theory that the place was haunted—"

"Haunted?" cried Simon Brill. "That foolish, ineffective word! Yes, undoubtedly, in your terms, Comber House is haunted! Before long, I shall prove this. The skeptics will stop smiling, and the world will be converted to a new philosophy—a philosophy that at present merely snatches at, I will do more than Oliver Lodge or Conan Doyle, I will prove that spirits exist—that the dead miners of Byford Moor are still here among us—and that they can march out of the bowels of the earth while the sounds of the explosion that changed their condition still ring in our ears. When my experiment—"

He stopped. Charlie did not know whether it was some thought of his own that had caused him to stop, or whether it was the sight of the professor, who was mopping his brow as though on the verge of collapse.

"Well, if you convert me you'll be clever," stammered Charlie, conscious that the remark was inadequate, but anxious to make some contribution that would relieve the strain a little.

"I see you are one of the true skeptics," commented Simon Brill, more quietly. "But—tell me—you have heard those strange booming sounds under Comber House, have you not?"

"Yes, I've heard them," "And your idea is—"

"I don't know that I've any special idea. I'm not a detective or a scientist. And it's so frightfully hot!"

"But you have some theory of your own, eh?" persisted the old man. "You and your friends?"

"It's the sea dashing against the rocks most likely," said Charlie. "I gather that most people believe it is, anyway."

"I'm sure it is," exclaimed Celia, unexpectedly. "I was there once, and somebody explained it to me. The water enters some of the caves for quite a way at high tide, and where it's rough—What are you smiling at, Mr. Brill?"

"I am smiling at the colossal ignorance of mankind," replied Simon Brill, "and also at the picture of you, Miss Cunningham—and of you, also, sir—when you are confronted by the proof I shall very shortly offer the world."

He turned towards the professor, but Charlie suddenly asked: "When is this proof going to take place, Mr. Brill?"

"In the next twenty-four hours—perhaps," answered Brill. "And where?"

"In Comber House—perhaps. And then, again," he added, abruptly, "perhaps not. In any case, Comber House is a very unhealthy place to pester about in, and wise folk will remember it."

"Come, come!" cried the professor. "Are we never to have our chat, Brill?"

Simon Brill nodded, and began to follow his host, who was already hastening towards the house. Charlie looked after them, then turned inquiring eyes on Celia. The girl had made no movement to leave.

"I say, am I a nuisance?" asked Charlie. "I'm feeling pretty well all right now, if you think I ought to go?"

She hesitated; then said: "Don't go on my account, please."

"You mean that?" "Of course."

"Then I won't go on my account," he said. "At least, not for a few minutes. You know, if you provide such amazingly comfortable hammocks, you mustn't expect your guests to go—not even your uninvited ones. Won't you sit down?"

A deck chair stood beside the hammock. Celia sank into it, and a look of great weariness entered her eyes. But the next moment she was fighting to keep her eyes open.

"How did your accident occur?" she asked, trying to forget her own troubles. "I haven't heard."

"I went over a stone," replied Charlie, hating himself for the lie. He had told plenty of lies in his time, but this one rather stuck in his throat. His excuse was that he was really lying on her behalf. "And did you fall off your bicycle?" she went on.

"Yes, I fell off," nodded Charlie. "I was cycling along—and there was this stone—this large stone—and I expect I wasn't looking, because, all of a sudden—" He paused. Celia's eyes were disturbingly trustful. "It's no good, Miss Cunningham," he murmured, lamely. "I can't keep it up any longer."

"Can't keep what up?" she exclaimed.

"My little deception," he said, dropping his voice. "There wasn't any accident." She stared at him. "The whole thing is a put-up job. I—wanted to—"

"To force your way in here?" she demanded, flushing.

"Yes. But don't be frightfully angry with me until you know the reason."

"What is the reason?" "A fearfully impertinent one. I've got an idea—never mind how, for a moment—that you're in some sort of trouble, and if there is any way whatever in which I can be of assistance—well, I've come along."

The Theater

The impression gaining followers constantly, that the legitimate stage is threatened by the talking movie, while not subscribed to by your correspondent, may well be considered gravely in the light of some of the plays which reach production in playdom's capital, New York City.

These remarks are based on a producers and then was taken up current review in The New Yorker, smart Gotham weekly, of three plays now occupying the boards in downtown theaters. Charles Brackett, critic, heads his column for that publication "Illegitimate Drama."

His first review concerns "The Camel Through the Needle's Eye," by the Lenox Hill Players and produced at the Cherry Lane Theater. Although supposed to be satire, critics said the play was neither pointed nor funny while the production was mechanically clumsy. The Lenox Hill Players is the group which produced the Elmer Rice play in which Jane Hamilton was so successful last winter.

Did you know that Ruth Coxey, daughter of the famed "General Coxey," gets $75 a week for appearing as a chorine in the Ziegfeld stage? And her father walked all the way to Washington, D. C., for nothing.

The talkies have created increased demand for pretty girls with grace and pep. That explains how Blanche Fisher happens to be in Hollywood.

a Theater Guild offering, from the pen of Frantisek Langer, a Czechoslovak, which is said to be a parallel for "The Garden of Eden"; the second reviewed is "The Love Duel," by Lili Hatvany, adapted by Zoe Akins and played by Ethel Barrymore at her own theater; the third is "Before You're 25," by Kenyon Nicholson, at the Maxine Elliott. The point to be made is that the climax in each centers about an illegitimate child and it somehow seems that that is overdoing a mundane theme.

In the last of these, "Before You're 25" appears our old friend, Ernest Glendinning, late of the Wright Players, Dayton stock company, in which he was leading man last season. At the Maxine, Elliott Ernest plays the part of a new-style clerk. And it may be interesting to note that a few weeks ago Glendinning was playing a supporting part in "Flight," by Susan Meriwether and Victor Vidor at Longacre.

F. Scott Fitzgerald, who writes smartly and engagingly of youth and its affairs for publication in magazine and book form, seems to have fallen down miserably in his play attempt, "The Vegetable, or From President to Postman." The opus was turned down flatly by the

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose. Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. H. L. Sayre's Drug Store. —Adv
